Several Refugees Arrive in San Francisco.

Thousands of Indians Lose Their Lives.

Many Persons Escape Fury of Volcano Only to Be Killed by Robbers.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 19.—The first of the refugees from the devastated lands of Guatemala, arrived today on the Pacific Mail steamer City of Para. They came from the districts far inland from the sea, and traveled over a country laid waste by sand, ashes and pumice before reaching a railway station. From the latter places they made the journey by rail to Champerico and there took the steamer to San Francisco. They sailed on November 7, and the volcano was still smoking, and rumbling and thunder and flashes of lightning gave evidence of more eruptions to come.

These people fled from their plantations in fear for their lives. They escaped to the seaside with little more than the clothes they wore, transportation being so difficult as to preclude the carrying of baggage. The refugees confirm the stories of loss of life. They say that the victims are for the most part Indians. They had not heard of any white people being lost. Thousands of Indians were asphyxiated, and buried in the sand. Miles of plantations are under ashes and absolute ruin. The lot of many planters. One refugee comes from within half an hour's ride of Gen. Barrios place, and brings information that the general and his family are safe.

A cablegram received here when the first eruption occurred said that Gen. Barrios had been asphyxiated.

NOT SANTA MARIA CRATER.

The refugees state that it is not the crater of Santa Maria that is in action, but a smaller mountain rising from one of the western slopes of Santa Maria, called El Huevo.

Bands of Mexican robbers are now swarming the desolated regions, robbing and murdering refugees on the road, and looting the abandoned and desolate plantations.

The people left behind on the plantations, it is said, are in danger of death from starvation for the food supplies have been cut off, and there is no way to send in supplies to the afflicted districts.

Those who came on the City of Para were the Barrios family, and Miss Mariana Barrios. The Barrios consist of Ferdinand and his mother, his sister Julia and brother Albert. Another brother, Augustin, remained behind to look after the property.

The Barrios own the Magnolia plantation, near La Argentina, and about thirty miles south of Champerico.

BAILED THROUGH PUMICE.

The steamer Para met evidence of the volcanic eruption soon after leaving Ocosingo. Great quantities of pumice were found floating on the water, and some of the pieces were as big as a man's head. The sea was covered with the stuff. When the vessel got up to the coast, the pumice was seen to be covered with a light ash. At Champerico there was about half an inch of ash over the roofs of the houses, and the ground was covered as though there had been a snow storm. Ashes were then falling, although it was six miles from the volcano.

At Champerico, the first eruption of the volcano, during the night of November 6, just a few hours before the City of Para sailed out of the port, loud rumblings of earth were heard, and heavy reports as of distant thunder came from the direction of the volcano.

Word had been received from Mazatenango, on the outskirts of the ruined territory, stating that on Friday, October 24, at about 5 o'clock in the evening, Santa Maria opened its crater on the west side near its base, and not far from Helvetic, and all that night belched great volumes of ash and lava over Xoluitz and Costa Cuca.

On Saturday morning it was noticed that several more eruptions in the neighborhood of the mountain had opened up, and they were all spouting volcanic debris over the plantations of the district. The fresh eruptions were further to the west, and for over twenty-four hours they were in continual eruption, shaking down buildings and causing much destruction from the falling ash. All houses and buildings were buried under foot of ash, and every hope of ever reclaiming had been given up. The whole neighborhood for miles was a burning wilderness.

At Mazatenango, on the south side of the volcano, only ashes had fallen, and not to such a great depth that it was not possible to save some of the plantation property. News from that town said that hundreds of refugees were collecting in the mountains, and were pushing on to places further away from the volcano, fearing further destruction from it. Many of the refugees were without bread or shelter, and their condition was pitiable. At that place most of the buildings had been badly destroyed, if not completely destroyed by the volcano.

tion. Mitchell was cross-examined by former Congressman Wolverton, counsel for the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron Company.

Mitchell said it would be impossible for him to give details of the conditions at each mine, or even under each company. He also declared that it would neither be possible nor desirable to divide the United Mine Workers into two separate organizations, one bituminous and the other anthracite.

"The anthracite miners," he said, "have had independent and separate organizations in the past. They have done so, and they are doing so now. They do not want any more of their organizations to go the same way."

The reply of Mitchell excited some interest, because of the fact that this was a suggestion made by Carroll Wright in his report of the strike to the President.

James A. Torrey of Scranton, representing the Delaware and Hudson company, followed with a number of inquiries on the subject of the riot that occurred at Shenandoah.

Mitchell was emphatic in saying that the reports sent out were grossly exaggerated, and that but one life was lost. The Sheriff's appeal to the Governor for aid, he said, was overdrawn.

The individual operators, who have no up to the present time pressed their case before the commission, through one of their attorneys inquired if they would be given the opportunity to examine witnesses when questions arose which were different from those with the other companies. Judge Gray replied that they would.

RIGHTS OF NON-UNIONISTS.

Mitchell, in reply to Burns, said that when a man strikes he does not voluntarily give up his job, but he strikes for an improvement in the condition of his job. If he wins he gets back with the job. If he loses, he goes back with his hat in his hand and asks for a job. Judge Gray here interrupted to explain the decision of the commission with the returning to work of the men who had been on strike. He said:

"I think the understanding is that, pending the consideration of the questions by this commission, the men are to return immediately to work, and I think the further understanding—don't let me be misunderstood—that the non-union men were not to be employed with or displaced from employment already by the return of the union men."

Mitchell declared with emphasis in the course of subsequent examination that the miners will carry out to the letter the decision of the commission, "or go out of our union."

MUST GIVE THEIR NAMES.

Judge Gray then announced the decision of the commission in the matter of the application of John T. Lenahan and John T. O'Brien, attorneys for the non-union men, to appear in the case.

In the light of all their claims, said Judge Gray, they would be allowed to appear, but the commission could not consent to the withholding from the public of the names of the non-union men, as their attorneys had desired.

After Lenahan had assented to this, Judge Gray announced that the commission would see that no unfair use could be made of the names of the non-union men, and that the names of the non-union men would be given to the public.

"Whether they be in it that way or not," Judge Gray replied, "they represent an important element in the investigation, men who work for their living, and who are interested in the findings of this commission. We must give them a very careful hearing from all sides."

Responding to a question from Commissioner Watkins for a suggestion as to what should be done in the matter of child labor, Mitchell said that a law should be enacted providing that after a certain time children under 14 years of age should not be employed in the mines. The only way now that the operators could prevent the evil would be to refuse to employ children until they are 14 years of age. It frequently happened, he said, that parents were falsely regarding the ages of children.

The miners' president, after being asked the cross-examination, would than half a dozen lawyers for four and a half days, then left the witness stand.

The Rev. Peter Roberts, D.D., of Boston City, who is the student of labor on the anthracite coal industry, took the stand and had just begun his testimony when a recess was taken.

At the afternoon session Roberts took the stand and followed this with statistics to show that the occupation of the mine workers is more hazardous than any other large industry, not excepting that of railroading.

SHAFER'S CHARGES WILL BE IGNORED.

AN INVESTIGATION TO TERMINATE IN COMPROMISE EXONERATION.

Federation Full of Wrath at Recent Criticisms by President Elliot of Labor Union Methods and Expresses Intent in Appropriate Resolutions.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.) NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 19.—The special commission appointed to consider the charges made by President Shaffer of the Amalgamated Association of Steel, Iron and Tin Workers, against President Compers of the American Federation of Labor, will report tomorrow probably in the afternoon.

An investigation that will terminate in the exoneration of President Shaffer, and as a sensation it will probably wind up in the wet fire-cracker class.

The chief fight of the day came in the old struggle between the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners and the Amalgamated Association of Carpenters. The former organization asked for the revocation of the charter of the latter, on the ground that it was contrary to the interests of the trade-union movement, its avowed object being to force the other organizations to join the union.

This was all the more interesting since he suffered the loss of many valuable pieces of his handiwork by the fire several years ago. He was a native of England, aged 55 years.

The resolution recommended that charges of ill treatment be investigated, and if found to be correct, a provision for the return to Porto Rico be made by the government.

A resolution condemning the recent published utterances of President Elliot of Harvard College, in favor of "scab" workmen, was reported on favorably by the committee, and its action was endorsed by the convention. The first paragraph of the resolution, as originally introduced, commenced: "Whereas the head of the American American University, President Charles W. Eliot of Harvard, etc."

Secretary Agard of the committee called attention to the words "the foremost" saying that the committee had changed the words to "a prominent" saying that the committee did not believe any institution which would retain at its head a man capable of such expressions as those said to have been uttered by President Eliot could by any possibility be the foremost university of the country.

Joseph P. Allen of Philadelphia declared that the words be changed to "the head of one of the deplorable universities."

Delester Lighthall of Chicago declared that President Harper of the Rockefeller University, and John D. Rockefeller, the founder of the institution, were both opposed to the movement, and that they were trying to secure control of the public schools in that city, and the laboring men were endeavoring to counteract the movement by organizing the teachers into unions. The resolutions, as amended by the Resolution Committee, were passed unanimously.

No second was made to the motion of Delester Allen.

325 FINE GARMENTS

From Joseph Bleikeld & Co., Chicago.

On Sale at Half Price

Our garment buyer purchased 300 skirts, 75 jackets and 80 capes from the reserve stock of Joseph Bleikeld & Co., the celebrated Mail Order garment house of Chicago, at just about half price. These Bleikeld garments are favorably known to almost every woman in the land, and are decidedly high grade. They were overstocked, and placed these goods with surplus others on the market. This portion that we secured represents the first choice, which of course was best. You'll find these tomorrow morning in our Daylight Garment Section. The styles are unquestionable, qualities better than you'd ever expect for the price and the prices so low that they seem to bear no relation to the garment. Come early if you're interested, as there's a few particularly choice garments in the collection.

CONSUMPTION

How and Where It Is Cured.

The idea that consumption is incurable is generally prevalent. This belief is fostered by many professional men and is strengthened by the vast amount of intellectual effort which has been put forth in vain endeavor to check the ravages of the disease. The many widely-recorded remedies and "discoveries" along these lines have led to a continued series of disappointments to those who are vitally interested in this question of life and death.

Nevertheless, consumption can be cured, has been cured and is being cured, and these statements can be substantiated to the complete satisfaction of anyone who will make a conscientious, thorough investigation of the proofs which are to be had for the saying. The treatment under which these cures have been effected has been in use for nearly seven years, and hundreds of cases have been treated so that the value of the treatment is not in any degree problematical.

Dr. W. H. Ballard, 419 S. Spring street, Los Angeles, is the man to whom you should apply for this treatment. He is a physician which is bringing about these results. His improved tuberculin treatment destroys the germs of the disease (bacilli), thus reaching the root of the trouble. At his Sanatorium in Pasadena, he furnishes in addition to this specific treatment, a comprehensive system of inhalation, whereby a continuous supply of antiseptic, germicidal, medicated air is introduced into each sleeping apartment. A physical culture department and a carefully selected but cheerful diet, together with institutional regime and constant care of the medical department, are additional advantages which are offered in this institution.

In the earlier stages of the disease, it is reasonable to expect a complete cure, and even in the advanced stages this treatment has been wonderfully successful and many complete cures effected. Dr. Ballard's success in treating those complications has become known under his treatment is not approached by any other institution in the world.

Write for new booklet just issued, which will be mailed free for the asking, either from 419 S. Spring street, Los Angeles, or at the Ballard Pulmonary Sanatorium, Pasadena, Cal.

TELLS ALL HE KNOWS ABOUT THE MASONIC TEMPLE TAX CASE.

Declares That He Received None of the Money That Was Paid to Wheeler and Thinks Receipt for Taxes Came from Treasurer's Office.

CHICAGO, Nov. 19.—Capt. Edward Williams, the former manager of the Masonic Temple, who returned to the city yesterday after having been three weeks in hiding, following the Masonic Temple tax scandal, took the stand today as the witness for the State in the trial of President James H. Gormly for conspiracy.

He testified that he had entered into an agreement with Luke Wheeler and a man named Storm, presuming that they represented the County Treasurer's office, to secure a receipt in full for the temple taxes, amounting to $247,000 for $25,000, and that he had done so with the full knowledge and consent of President Gormly and of Director Rush of the Masonic Fraternity Temple Association, then its secretary and treasurer.

Williams then testified that he had nothing to do with the drawing of the money for the $25,000 check. It was given to him a day or two after the conversation detailed above, and he

WARRANT IS ISSUED FOR THE YOUNG MAN'S ARREST.

Judge Edward Harney Accuses Him of Trying to Procure a Decision in Favor of the Amalgamated Copper Company—Chief Counsel Shores Involved.

BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES: HELENA (Mont.) Nov. 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A charge of bribery was made today in the criminal department of the District Court, at Butte, against Charles W. Clark, son of United States Senator W. A. Clark, by County Attorney Green, and a warrant of arrest was issued for the young man. At the same time, disbarment proceedings were instituted in the court against Arthur J. Shores, chief counsel of the Amalgamated Copper Company in Montana, and D. Gay Stivers, another attorney in the employ of the company.

The petitioners and complainants against the two attorneys are Judge Edward Harney, whose name was associated with scandalous charges of corruption and immorality in connection with the now famous Minnie Healey mine case between F. Augustus Healey and the Amalgamated company, and State Senator J. M. Kennedy. The charges against the two attorneys and Clark grow out of the Minnie Healey case, it being alleged that they attempted to bribe Harney to give a decision in favor of the Amalgamated company.

In the charge against Shores, Judge Harney claims the chief counsel of the Amalgamated company threatened to ruin him if he did not give a decision in his favor on a motion for a new trial in the Minnie Healey case, and that he was a party to the now famous meeting in the Thomson Hotel August 4, 1901, when Charles W. Clark, it is alleged, offered Harney $25,000 if he would grant a new trial, make an affidavit admitting that Healey had bribed him to make a decision in his favor; resign his position on the bench and accept the state bar, and that before the decision was made Lawyer Stivers came to him for the purpose of influencing his decision, and said he represented H. H. Rogers, president of the Amalgamated Copper Company, the judge's case, on a corrupt-pretending business, out of which he could make large profits.

Clark is said to be seriously ill, the warrant will not be served until his recovery.

Clark is said to have left for California tonight in a special car.

HOW THE TIMES TREATS LABOR.

THE LOS ANGELES TIMES regularly pays its labor, reliable and acceptable workmen wages that average from $3.75 to $4.50 per day for time and, from $4 to $5.50 per day for piece work. These rates are higher than are paid by any competing newspaper; and another advance has recently been agreed upon. The Times pays larger sums weekly, monthly and yearly than any other newspaper in the Southwest. Its cash disbursements on this account between August, 1890, and the end of September, 1901, aggregated $2,007,000.81, and its annual expenditures for labor of all classes, both skilled and unskilled, now average more than $175,000 per year. There never has been any attempt, in any quarter, to deny these specific and telling facts, of the proprietors challenge such denial if made. Not for years has the Times had any trouble with its workmen, who are independent of unions, loyal to their employers and themselves, well satisfied and prosperous. The Times controls its own business in its own way, subject only to the laws of the land; and no interference with that control can be lawfully or justly made. The result of its fixed policy has proven highly beneficial to all concerned, and the justness and correctness of its course have for years past received public approval in most marked and conspicuous ways, the circulation and advertising patronage of the paper steadily and largely outstripping that of all local rivals.

THE TIMES-MIRROR COMPANY.

H. G. OTIS, President and General Manager.
Since no attempt whatever has ever been made in any quarter to refute, or even dispute, the accuracy of the foregoing authoritative statements, our devoted malingerers are stopped; and the public is amply warranted in giving no credence to contemporary hostile assaults upon the Times management in the matter of its relations to its workmen, or vice versa. Falsehood must yield a truth.

BUSINESS.

The Los Angeles banks sent to the exchange yesterday checks aggregating $1,223,232.56, as compared with $752,783.91 for the corresponding period of last year. Next Monday is the last day for payment of the first half of city and county taxes; meaning people to fall over one another to pay their taxes, and prosperity is so marked that any property owners are paying both halves at once.
Trading in wheat was of enormous volume at Chicago yesterday, and over five million bushels are said to have been bought for one speculator. December closed 2 1/2 cents higher at 75 1/2 c. Corn and oats closed higher. Manhattan was again the feature of the New York stock market, and made a gain of over nine points.

FOR WE ARE THE GOVERNMENT.

There have been some queer doings at the convention of the American Federation of Labor, at New Orleans. The delegates there assembled are having a strenuous time "saving the country" and trying to make a show of earning their salaries. Some of the freakish propositions brought before the gathering would be really amusing if it were not for the fact that certain well-intentioned people will be apt to take them with more or less seriousness.
One of the freak schemes was in the form of a resolution offered by Delegate Berger of Milwaukee, instructing the Federation of Labor "to use its best efforts to induce the national Congress to pass a bill securing to every wage-worker who shall have reached the age of sixty years, without having an average annual income of $1000, a pension of $12 a month, provided the wage-worker is a citizen of the United States and has resided in this country for twenty-one years when the application for pension is made."
One of the delegates, in speaking in advocacy of this resolution, observed that "when we ask the government for anything, we must remember that we are asking ourselves, for we are the government." This declaration, according to the dispatch reporting the proceedings of the convention, was greeted with great applause.
"We are the government."
Such a declaration, coming from a gathering representing eighty millions of the American people would have been literally true, and being true would have been entitled to the utmost respect. But such a declaration, coming from a single delegate in a gathering nominally representing less than 1,500,000 persons (and misrepresenting the great majority of these) was at once grotesque, amusing, ridiculous, and disgusting.

We have all heard of the three tailors of Tooley street, who preface their petition with "we, the people." The Gompers crowd have gone the three tailors one better, with "we, the government." But, fortunately for the people of this free commonwealth, the claim in the one case is no nearer the truth than in the other.
The American republic has not yet reached a stage of progress (or retrogression) in which the American Federation of Labor is the government. It is quite true that Gompers and his allies are bending every possible effort to bring about a condition of affairs in which they would be the supreme authority, controlling the lives, liberties, and aspirations of the people. But they have not yet succeeded in this enterprise, and the present indications

JUSTICE DEMANDS IT.

There is one demand made by the non-union coal miners that seemingly ought to be conceded by the President's commission without debate. This demand is that "members of the Mine Workers' Union shall be required to desist from all manner of annoyance to us and our families and shall permit us to exercise our right to earn our living in any lawful manner we choose."

This appeal for the mere right to live possesses the element of pathos, as well as the elemental principles of eternal justice. Until this right to immunity from assault and annoyance is conceded by the union workers in the mines and absolutely secured to the free labor in the anthracite regions there would seem to be precious little to discuss between the labor agitators, the mining officials and the President's commission. It is little short of appalling that in a land of law, liberty and enlightenment such a demand should be considered necessary. Whatever the other considerations in the mining regions of Pennsylvania there must be peace, the right to come and go at will, the right to toil or to cease from labor—the right to live! All other questions pale into insignificance beside this one fundamental principle of the right to "life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness." Should the sitting commission but succeed in securing this one right to the unfettered laborer in the coal fields? Creation will not have been in vain.

A gentleman with nerves has written to The Times in protest against the bells with which the breakers in Pennsylvania are fitted. It is in the town in the early morning hours decorates his horses and murders sleep. There is reason in his roar. But the bread distributor is not the only offender. The whole world is filled with noise-makers with noise that is altogether and entirely unnecessary. There are whistles blowing uselessly, gongs ringing that have no call to ring, and a general disturbance of the peace on all sides that ought to be suppressed. The maker of noise should be checked in his mad career, no matter whether he runs a bread wagon, or a factory that has whistles in it that wakens babies and drives sufferers on beds of pain to despair. Let us have just as much peace as possible. At best there is mighty little of it in sight.

The theatrical managers of Washington are now in a muss with the union that shoves paper-maché motives across the stage and that drops the curtain in the wrong place. The issue is the same old issue, whether the men who are running the theatrical business in Washington shall run it, or whether their employees who work for wages shall attend to things. This matter will be settled now as any other time.

There is a flurry in December corn in Chicago, but out in the spreading fields where the dry blades rustle in the wind and the yellow cars are heaped up in the crib all is as serene as possible. They will remain in the same condition in December, no matter how much the Chicago bulls and bears rise and fall and how the ground and burst one another up in business.

John Mitchell seems not to have heard of that "reign of terror" in Pennsylvania. It is in the possible that John wears ear muffs in midsummer? He is the only man in the United States that didn't hear what was going on, in the way of death and destruction, in that badly-bedeviled region once infested by the Molly Maguires.

The Los Angeles tomato of commerce is invading the markets of the East, along with much other garden truck, fruit and other produce. The tomato at this time of the year is as welcome in the East as would have been the sight of a bear, on the Sunflower River in Mississippi, to our President last Monday.

Mayor Schmitts of San Francisco is still "switching" his "San Jose" and is today booked for the invasion of New Orleans, which is already being considerably torn up by the Gompers-Shaffer imbroglio. As "music hath charms," etc., Eugene ought to fiddle a few chords to these embattled walking delegates.

The movement to increase the rate of postage on fake newspapers and the blood-and-thunder literature that flut about the streets of San Francisco, to succeed, the dissemination of literature is a good thing, but the distribution of hogwash at the expense of the people ought to be stopped.

According to a Times special dispatch, nineteen of the great railroad lines of this country will raise wages. But the dear public will pay the freight as usual, and then hog meat, flour, beans, and raiment will go up and the laborer will be just where he was before.

That rare old row between Walking Delegate Shaffer and the more or less notorious Sam Gompers, likewise walking delegate, is on again with redoubled fury. When labor agitators fall out there ought to be a show for the men who work to do business without being bedeviled.

The loosening of party ties in municipal campaigns is one of the signs that the average American is broadening between the eyes and having some of the partisan wheels in his thinking department removed for the good of the man and his country.

STREET CLEANING.

BY FRANK DONALDSON, M.D.

Inspector should report these breaches of the law.

Admiration of banana skins, they became such a nuisance in New York and led to so many broken limbs from people slipping on them, that Col. Waring issued a special order on the subject to the denizens of New York City. It was to the effect that the banana skins were to be removed from the sidewalks, and the horses on the street, as horses were very fond of them.

I counted sixty-seven banana skins on one block on a down town street in New York yesterday. As I said, it is utterly impossible to give any city properly clean streets unless you have the active cooperation of every citizen, including the children. In Col. Waring's time even the children on the East Side were formed into clubs, whose purpose was to help keep the streets clean.

MINES AND MINING.

MORE MICHIGAN CAPITAL FOR BISBEE PROPERTY.

BLAIR GROUP SELLS FOR TWO HUNDRED THOUSAND.

Reopening of Old Consolidated Mine Near Vanderbilt in Full Swing—Three Big Mexican Mines Sold—Smelter to Be Erected at Bakersfield.

Another important transfer of copper property has been made at Bisbee and another Michigan company has secured some of the richest copper-bearing land in the Warren mining district of Arizona.

Details of the latest sale, which was closed this week, have just been given out. It is announced that for a consideration in the neighborhood of $200,000, the Blair group, consisting of twenty-three claims, adjoining the property opened up by the South Bisbee company of this city, has been acquired by a syndicate of big capitalists.

William Cates of Calumet, Mich., is head of the syndicate. As he is a law partner of Gordon R. Campbell, who organized the Calumet and Arizona Mining Company, and as the latter corporation has been recently purchased by Capt. C. H. Thompson, who organized the Federal Mining Company, the Arizona P. recently extended its spur from Marquette to the mine, and a new town is springing up at the present terminus.

Considerable money has already been expended in reopening the mine and in new development. About twenty-four men are now employed and this force is soon to be increased. The company has extensive holdings, and the ore is highly mineralized.

THREE MINES SOLD.

Big mining deals are coming thick and fast in the different mining camps of the State of Chihuahua, Mex. The latest reported was consummated recently in the Terraza camp, where several local capitalists have acquired holdings.

The sale reported is of the American, Shamrock and the Maid of Erin mines, the purchasers being Boston

BAKERSFIELD SMELTER.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—P.M.

BAKERSFIELD, Nov. 19.—Articles of incorporation were filed late this afternoon with the County Clerk for the Pacific Smelting Company, a corporation organized under the laws of this State, with a capital of $5,000,000. The purpose of the company is the erection of a smelting works in Bakersfield to handle custom trade in copper, lead, iron and other metals.

The capacity of the works at the outset will be 100 tons a day, to be increased as a number of months will be commenced very shortly.

The enterprise is backed by a number of the most influential local capitalists as well as a number of moneyed men from the East. A. W. Macrae of this city is the chief promoter and has been working on the matter for the past year.

NEW PRINCESS.

King Helena of Italy Presents the Queen With a Daughter Instead of a Heir to the Throne.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—A.M.

ROME, Nov. 19.—[By Atlantic Cable.] Queen Helena was accouched of a daughter this morning. The mother and child are announced to be doing well. The new Princess will be named "Mafalda."

The announcement occurred a month earlier than was expected. The King yesterday was shooting on the island of Monte Cristo, when he was suddenly summoned home. He immediately boarded a yacht and was landed on the beach in the neighborhood of Rome. As there were no sailors, a motor car was in waiting, and he was received by the palace.

The birth of another Princess, instead of an heir to the throne, is a great public disappointment. The King, however, is said to be in excellent spirits. He declared he was satisfied with another daughter, and said the Queen and child were doing well.

The child born to the King and Queen of Italy today is the youngest daughter, the first Princess Tatiana, born at the Vatican on June 1, 1901.

THE CITY IN BRIEF.

NEWS AND BUSINESS.

Another Pool Joint.

Embodied by the success of Black & Fitzgerald, another firm of gamblers opened a pool-selling joint on Main street yesterday. What has become of the new anti-pool-room ordinance? Bankrupt Farmer.

Henry G. De Will, a farmer of Fresno, has filed a petition in bankruptcy with the clerk of the United States District Court. His liabilities are scheduled as $2182.50, and his assets as $1600.

Fractured Two Ribs.

George O'Connell, a coachman, was treated at the Receiving Hospital last night for the fracture of two ribs. He was unhurt by a team, when the horses started, and the pole of the buggy struck him in the side.

Irish Editor Here.

James Connolly, who is editor of the Workers' Republic, of Dublin, Ireland, is in the city, and tomorrow evening will lecture in the Redmen's Hall, No. 342 South Main street. His lecture is on "The Workers of Ireland and Their Logical Remedy."

Modern Cottage Sold.

Mrs. Jennie Messner has sold to Jennie Giles, through Althouse Bros., a handsome modern seven-room cottage with lot 60x117 feet, on the north side of Orange street, 180 feet west of Union avenue; consideration named, $6000.

An Angeleno Honored.

The Supreme Lodge of the Knights of Columbus has commissioned Joseph Scott, a well-known attorney of this city, as Territorial Deputy Supreme Knight for California and adjacent territory. This appointment places Mr. Scott in the highest position of this order in the West.

Bohemian Club Banquet.

The Bohemian Club had its sixth monthly banquet at Levy's last evening. The membership has increased largely since the last meeting, and the future work of the club promises to be of both interest and profit. Several musical and literary features are contemplated during the winter.

Whose Grip?

A. Losano and J. H. Owens were arrested yesterday while trying to dispose of articles supposed to have been stolen. The prisoners had in their possession a valise containing underwear, socks, handkerchiefs and shoes. They could not explain where they got the stuff, and the detectives are anxious to find an owner.

Union Service.

A union Thanksgiving service is to be held by the cooperating churches in the vicinity of the First Congregational Church, Hill and Sixth streets, at 11 a.m. The proclamation will be read by Dr. McIntyre; the scripture reading by Rev. Joseph Smale; the prayer by Rev. A. C. Smith; the sermon by Dr. Pittner, and Dr. Walker is to have charge of the offering.

Stole Horse and Buggy.

Jose Delgado was arrested last night by Patrolman Arguello on a charge of grand larceny. He found a horse and buggy parked on San Fernando street, and appropriated it to his own use. An hour later he was found driving aimlessly and was arrested. He said he did not know that the rig was not his, and his condition was such that his statement was taken on a promise.

Struck by a Car.

Mrs. Richard Payne, who came here recently from Covington, Ky., and who has been soliciting for steam heaters, was seriously injured last night at the Arroyo Seco crossing of Pasadena avenue, by being struck by a Pasadena car. She was knocked down, caught by the fender and dragged a considerable distance. She sustained fractures of both bones of the left ankle, and numerous severe bruises about the body. She was taken to her home at No. 5129 Monte Vista avenue.

Theatrical Manager.

Manager Frank Hennessey of "The Liberty Bells" Company strolled into Los Angeles yesterday, and is quartered at the Hollenbeck. Mr. Hennessey leaves his company here and jumps to New York to organize a second company. He came West to secure talent for his various organizations. Manager Hennessey says the western girls are better singers, finer looking and secure better positions than those from the East. He will engage several vocalists in this city for his eastern companies.

Used Butcher Knife.

James Ross was arrested last evening near Fourth and Spring streets on a charge of disturbing the peace. Today the charged probably he changed to assault with a deadly weapon. Ross is alleged to have attempted to kill J. A. Plummer of No. 234 South Spring street with a butcher knife. The men had a dispute over a trivial matter, which in his condition Ross exaggerated. He produced a large butcher knife with which he is said to have assaulted Plummer, cutting him on the hand. Therefore he could not use the weapon further he was disarmed and arrested.

BREVITIES.

The Union Bank of Savings has begun a systematic campaign of education for the encouragement of thrift and the saving of small sums. This bank has for some months sought to encourage habits of economy by loaning free a small steel home bank to persons opening an account with them for the sum of $1 or more. The plan has succeeded well enough to justify greater efforts along this line, and a large quantity of home banks have been secured and ten expert canvassers brought from the East, where the plan has been in successful operation, to canvass the town. The Union Bank of Savings believes that one of these little banks in every home will be the means of saving thousands of dollars to the people of Los Angeles. The experiment is certainly a novel one here and will be watched with interest.

SICKNESS TAKES CAUSE.

More Light on Suicide at San Jose of Jackson Stoll, a Prominent Merchant of New Jersey.

THE TRUE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.1 NEWTON (N. J.) Nov. 12.—Jackson Stoll, who committed suicide in San Jose, Cal., by swallowing chloroform, was a business man of this town, and vice-president of the W. D. Ackerson Company, which conducts a department store. Ackerson was asked today about a letter from him, that was found among the dead man's effects, and in which reference was made to a shortage of $1500 in a church fund. He explained that the letter referred to the fact that the Episcopal Church in this place is in debt to that amount. Stoll was a vestryman of the church, and Ackerson mentioned the fact of the shortage as he supposed it would be of interest to his father-in-law.

Ackerson said that Stoll had been in poor health for the last two years. He left here on June 1, intending to travel throughout the West, thinking that change of scene might benefit him. Ackerson says there was no reason why his father-in-law should wish to end his life unless that it was that he had had a relapse.

"NEVER!" SAYS MRS. MAGUIRE.

She Who Formerly Was Mrs. Dodge.

Will not Give Up Her Only Daughter.

Sequel to Alaska Miner's Hunt for His Child—The Lost Found.

The Dodge story proves to be an Enoch Arden poem with a divorce attachment. Yesterday's Times published the tale of H. L. Dodge, who for a decade has been in Alaska, winning a fortune amid the cold hardships of the north, but cut off entirely from the world, from his wife, and most of all, from his sorrow, from his beloved daughter.

For the rest he didn't care much, as he and his wife had separated long since, but the little one—she still had a very warm place in his heart. On Tuesday Dodge appealed to Superintendent Poshay of the city schools for assistance in finding the child, as he had endeavored to locate her and her mother, but without avail.

Yesterday The Times found Mrs. Dodge, who is now Mrs. A. M. McGuire, she is living with her husband at No. 224 East Second street, where Mr. McGuire has a small fruit and confectionery store. To be brief, Mrs. McGuire didn't care a little bit whether her former half ever came back. Seven years ago she was divorced from Dodge in the local courts, and supposed until now that he had passed completely from her life.

To a Times reporter she said last evening: "I have the child with me at present. She is now 13 years of age, and for her I have worked during the past ten years as hard as any mother ever worked for her offspring. Dodge can't have her. She is mine, and I will keep her as long as I live. I don't care if he does not spoil her. I don't care if he does not spoil her. I don't care if he does not spoil her."

"Sixteen years ago I married Mr. Dodge in Chicago, when I was a mere slip of a girl, being only 17 years old, when baby Ethel was born. Our life did not run smoothly from the first. I worked on the Panhandle Railroad for a while after we were married, doing all sorts of little jobs, and for months I lighted and tended a long line of switch targets in line for the money from the cash drawer, and go out for a time—she virtually supported several sporting women there in the city."

"I used to cry over it and think it was perhaps because I was a mere child myself, and that when I grew older I would think more of me and great me better. The only change was that the worst of many times he came home and beaten me almost into insensibility. The child—what did he care for her then? And her little meek about his love now. Han?"

Burning Oil Refinery Eclipses the Sun With Its Smoke.

Smoke—blows of black smoke—created a total eclipse of the sun between the southeastern city limits and Downey yesterday afternoon.

It was a rare spectacle. Hundreds saw it. There was about $25,000 worth of smoke. It represented half of the plant of the Hercules Oil Refining Company. Not half of the loss will be recovered, it is stated, through insurance.

The conflagration started instantaneously, and was hopeless from the beginning. There was an explosion, a flash of fire, and in an instant two acres of smoking flames were sending up dense clouds of smoke. The dozen workmen barely had time to get out of the buildings and telephone for the reinforcements they knew could do little good. After that, under the direction of their employer, the men and the firemen, they stood around the borders of the huge cauldron and smothered little bays of burning oil by shoveling on earth. Salvation of the burning building and tanks was seen to be impossible, and efforts to confine or control the fierce flames looked almost foolish.

Nobody knew better how surely the plant was doomed when the fire first started than the officers and stockholders of the refinery. These men were among the first on the scene, and they stood around in groups with arms folded and cigars in their teeth, praying for the wind to hold out unchained. The wind was strong from the northwest, and it held the flames away from scores of tanks holding the precious oil in various stages of refinement. A reversal of its direction, or even a full, would mean a frightful conflagration and enormous loss. The wind did not change, and at a late hour last night a magnificent fire of flames to the buildings and asphaltum tanks of the Hercules plant seemed assured. The fire will probably not burn itself completely out for a couple of days.

Though at a remote point, the fire attracted a great crowd. All through the afternoon there was a stream of humanity from the city to see the show. The plant is located at the end of Santa Fé avenue, where Bethel street joins, and it is fully half a mile to the end of the antiquated one-horse car line. This one conveyance did the best business of its long career, but was wholly inadequate for the crowds. Many walked from the electric line, a distance of nearly two miles. Contributions from the countryside and the Santa Fé-avenue crowd helped swell the throng that surrounded the fire.

EXPLOSION STARTED IT.
The fire began at 1:15 o'clock, and was at its height in three minutes. While the cause of it is known to have been an explosion, the reason for the explosion is something of a mystery to those best acquainted with the refinery. The explosion occurred in one of four large metal asphaltum cooling tanks. The asphaltum had been piled in the tank, and the men were working on it. A degree of heat as often, and was in the process of cooling when the explosion occurred. The theory is that rain water had leaked into the tank and steam generated, which combined with the asphaltum gases produced too great pressure.

TARANTULA'S BITE KILLS RANCHMAN.

They were unable to enter again a moment later.

The fire raged most fiercely around the asphaltum tanks at first and very quickly a lake of the burning, bubbling fluid spread over the yard. The fire then took hold of the oil-storage house, a one-story brick building about 100x40 feet. Sheet-iron barrels of oil were thawed open and the contents leaked up in a hurry. The oil building was but fifteen feet from the nearest of the many huge tanks of oil that dotted the yard, and only the strong wind prevented the flames from touching these.

The wind put the asphaltum storage and cooper shop directly in line for the flames, and they were aflame almost at the start. The buildings were about the same size as the oil storeroom, the asphaltum warehouse opening on to the Santa Fé sidetracks. Standing on the tank were two tank cars filled with crude oil, one box car half full of asphalt in barrels and two empty box cars. A switching crew in charge of yardmaster D. O. Hutchinson was turning the San Diego train around the "Y" when they saw the flames shoot up, and came down to the scene in time to drag the full tank cars out of harm's way. The box cars were burned down by the trucks. The cargo salvaged is worth about $500.

FIANTIC PRECAUTIONS.
The large plant of the Franklin Refining Company adjoins that of the Hercules company closely on the east—the two tank yards being separated by long and capacious sunholes. Officers of the Franklin company were on the scene early and put a large force of men at work to prevent a second fire. With frantic haste banks of earth were thrown up to check the flow of burning oil toward the boundary line. A long ditch was dug away from the sunholes, and a tunnel cut beneath the railroad tracks, to empty the crude oil beyond the danger point.

Chief Strohm and Foreman Dave Garrison had charge of the fire-fighting tools, but so rapidly did the fire spread like that, that you could hear them buzzing. Mr. Whalen's strong suit as a school director was to be object to everything else that the other members of the board proposed doing. He always voted so on every motion made by a majority member of the board, and the majority as promptly negated every motion that Whalen made, so that honors were even, and the board transacted its business as calmly as if the honorable member from "de Ate" was not among them.

The Hon. Mr. Whalen had various political aspirations after his retirement from the school board, but they all came to naught. There was some talk of his running for Mayor or District Attorney, but his ungrateful co-Democrats refused to give him the nomination.

ALLEGED TOOL THIEF CAUGHT.

Important Arrest Made by Patrolman Lennon, of Man Wanted for Several Jobs of Petty Larceny.

The detectives believe that the tool thief has been captured. The tool thief is the man who, night after night, has been looting the boxes of carpenters left in houses under construction. His operations have extended over a period of several months and the value of the tools stolen amounts to several hundred dollars. This thief has been the most elusive criminal that the detectives have sought for a long time.

Early yesterday morning Patrolman Lennon was a man trying to dispose of a number of tools in a second-hand store on East First street and arrested him on suspicion. The man has a deep scar on his left cheek and a scar on his forehead. The detectives had been asked to look out for a man with just such a scar.

From the statements of persons to whom he had sold tools it is known that the suspect, who gave his name as W. E. Whalen, has been guilty of several cases of petty larceny. The detectives hope to prove that he is the man who robbed the tool chest of F. S. Walker on November 6, D. J. Henderson on November 9, and W. A. Rowe on November 11.

It was thought that the Hon. Mike would be about the last Democrat in Los Angeles to mend the error of his ways, for like "Uncle John" Bryson, Whalen has grown gray in the service of the party of dead issues, and become "set" in his opinions. Bryson has reformed since the late election, but Whalen went him one better by flopping before he cast his ballot on the last election day.

TARANTULA'S BITE KILLS RANCHMAN.

FRANCISCO LEON died Tuesday in his bed, after a long illness, from the effects of a tarantula bite received Saturday. His death is the first from that cause which has occurred in recent years in this part of the country.

In fact, there is no record of any other person being bitten by a tarantula in this part of the country. The Indians tell of many such cases which occurred here before the advent of the white man.

The coroner was notified Tuesday night that Leon had died unattended in his ranch-house, and went out yesterday to investigate. The corpse was found where the end had come, and its swollen condition indicated that death had been due to poison.

Inquiry developed the fact that the deceased had gone from his home last Saturday afternoon, and while passing through the brush in the mesa he had been bitten by a huge spider. He was stooping at the time he was bitten, and before the poison from the insect had time to pervade his system he called an employee and told him what had happened.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

Yesterday a large sum was returned to the water fund, and the balance of the borrowed money will be replaced today.

It is noted about that another reduction in the water rates may be made in the near future.

Julius Eilenstein got judgment against Barbara Orth for breach of promise yesterday.

George L. McKeeby has sued his young wife for divorce.

J. B. Osborn was yesterday convicted in the Police Court, of violating the city ordinance forbidding speech-making in the public parks.

John Raines was held in answer for attempted murder of Lena Donohue.

AT THE CITY HALL.

WATERWORKS FUND IS AGAIN MADE WHOLE.

MONEY BORROWED BY AUDITOR TO BE RETURNED.

Relief to Timid Evening Sheet Which Saw Calamity Stalking at the City's Gates and Heard the Wolf's Sad Cry Come Down the Wind.

It is now in order for those who raised such an agonizing hue and cry about the temporary diversion of money from the municipal waterworks fund to remember the figures, recover their breath and come to the realization that the city is safe and the republic still lives.

This week the $41,000 so used will be returned to the waterworks fund.

When the money was taken out of the water fund it was explained by the City Auditor, acting under authorization from the Council, that the money was needed for about two months to protect the credit of the city until the full payment of taxes. Despite this explanation an evening paper published on Upper Broadway had several columns and dangerous slanders upon the city and its officials.

The "bludgeon wielder in the knickerbocker" heard a jangle of the spheres and the crash of falling weapons precipitated by this dire deed. Bowen and others were accused of completely robbing the city of its money.

But the Auditor and the Finance Committee of the Council, through whose hands all fiscal plans must have carried out their promise and the sad ruin of the water fund has been made whole again.

When the money was taken last September a great many demands were outstanding against the city in the hands of day laborers, and the bond funds had been depleted by the action of the Council in clearing the balance of $25,000 will be returned to the water fund.

In order to repair the bond funds and to meet the obligations held by laborers, the City Auditor, acting under authority by a vote of the Council covering such cases, made transfers from the water fund amounting to $41,000.

Yesterday $22,000 was put back in the fund and either today or tomorrow the balance of $19,000 will be returned. This will entirely wipe out the account with the water fund. All the money ever borrowed from it has been returned.

Despite repeated statements to the contrary not one dollar of the revenue received from the water plant since the city acquired control, and since the ordinance for the management of the water department was passed, has been diverted from the waterworks fund.

At the beginning of the fiscal year, July 1 last, it was deemed very necessary to meet the shortages in the cash and other funds. This shortage was caused, in part, by the water plant, and in part by the smallpox epidemic which raged some years ago.

On the recommendation of the Finance Committee, the Council passed an ordinance which authorized the city to borrow money from the water plant to the extent of $41,000.

The revenue from the plant for October was over $42,000. The water plant, which was the source of the revenue, was the source of the revenue.

Councilman Bowen and others were accused of diverting the money from the waterworks fund.

The Council was not bound by the ordinance to divert the money from the waterworks fund.

There is talk of another reduction in the water rates. Surprising as it may seem, the additional taps put in during the last month and a half have just about balanced the water rate reduction in rates authorized some time ago.

The revenue from the plant for October was over $42,000. The water plant, which was the source of the revenue, was the source of the revenue.

Councilman Bowen and others were accused of diverting the money from the waterworks fund.

The Council was not bound by the ordinance to divert the money from the waterworks fund.

There is talk of another reduction in the water rates. Surprising as it may seem, the additional taps put in during the last month and a half have just about balanced the water rate reduction in rates authorized some time ago.

AT THE COURT HOUSE.

WANTED THE MONEY. BUT NOT THE WIDOW.

EILENSTEIN GOT JUDGMENT FOR BREACH OF PROMISE.

Judge Habeas Corpus Ladd 'Claims That His Client Was Not Acted So Much by a Broken Heart as by the Thought of Money He Had Invested.'

As doleful consolation for being jilted by a fastidious widow, Julius Eilenstein got judgment for a few hundred dollars for breach of promise yesterday.

It was not so much his lacerated affections that were worrying Eilenstein, the fact that he had wasted $250 in his pursuit of the Widow Orth's affections. He begged the court to make her pay it back. "As the widow made no appearance to defend herself, Judge Currey gave judgment for the neglected lover."

The case was one of the famous efforts of "Judge Habeas Corpus" Ladd. From the picturesque account of that impresario of legal love tangles, it appears that Eilenstein is a clerk of a small salary.

"He doesn't care a hang about the woman. You don't hear him making any fuss about his bleeding heart. What Eilenstein wants is his money back," said Judge Ladd.

Ladd told the story of the romance. "One day this Widow Orth came to Eilenstein and asked for help, she being a widow with two or three children. I don't know, she'd told me."

"Madame, I want a wife and I will help you to get one, which is the way that if I advance you money, you will become my wife."

"And," said Judge Ladd, "he said it would be all right. She'd told me."

Now, if that isn't a touching romance."

"But," Ladd's story goes on, "after he had put a wife in the house, which is the first thing he knows, so on the feller named Schauer were making love to each other."

As an interesting feature of the case, Judge Ladd has what purports to be a tender letter from the widow to Eilenstein, dated the day after the divorce.

Yet, even in this sweet misadventure there is heard-as in the case of Eilenstein-the harsh grating sound of commerce and of gold. The letter says:

June 15th 1931.
Los Angeles Cal.
Mrs. Barbara Orth
My Dear Madam

My Husband is gone, and I am reduced to a state of poverty. What I need is the use of twenty dollars per month for a Housekeeper and the reason I made up my mind to marry at once, I will get the License and will take a trip to San Diego or San Francisco-whichever place you wish please to let me know what day you will come.

Truly Yours,
HENRY SCHAUER.
528 Mateo St.
Los Angeles, Cal.

Judge Ladd says that the widow became too exacting in her demands on the second love. "So," he finishes with sad impressiveness, "she is still a widow."

LOST HIS LEG. AND GOT $200.

H. B. Foster, a half-grown boy, got $200 yesterday for a leg that was cut off in a trolley-car accident. He had sued the Los Angeles Railway Company for $500 damages, but by consent of both parties, Judge Allen entered a verdict of $200 in his favor.

The story of the young Foster, a juvenile on a Boyle Heights car and was standing on the foot platform when an assiduous motorist pushed him off. As he fell, his leg went under the car and was crushed.

ROBBER CONVICTED ON TWO CHARGES.

Charley White, alias Finch, was convicted on another charge of highway robbery yesterday. Saturday he will be sentenced on two charges. The iron hand of the law will probably hit him a heavy blow.

The charge on which White was convicted yesterday was for holding up Max Cohn near Ninth street.

At the time he did not have a pistol but a piece of lead pipe. Cohn flashed a deputy constable's star in his face and said: "White."

"I'm a police officer," said Cohn.

The bold highwayman begged for mercy. He said if Cohn would not arrest him, he would let him go. Cohn said: "Which was a funny thing to say. Cohn was eager enough to make this bargain and they both skedaddled in different directions."

There was also a charge of bicycle stealing against White, but this will be dismissed.

VICTIM OF CRIMINALS.

A CURIOUS DELUSION.

Miss Ella White, a woman of evident culture and refinement and a relative of Dr. M. L. White, the dentist, was sent to the insane asylum yesterday.

Miss White has a curious delusion. She fancies that she has become highly sensitized and that she is susceptible to thought waves sent out by thieves and counterfeiters and criminals.

She has appealed to President Roosevelt to help her. She has attempted violence upon members of her family.

COURT NOTES.

ATTRESS-WIFE. George L. McKeeby, deputy United States District Attorney, sued his young wife for divorce yesterday. They were married only a year ago. Mrs. McKeeby was a member of a con-opera company that played "The Captain" in this city. She is a woman of remarkable beauty. They lived for a time in the Hollywood. A short time ago, Mrs. McKeeby deserted him and went home to her mother. She recently came back to the city, but a reconciliation was not effected. She left a young baby with her husband when she went away.

JUDGE TRASK GOES NORTH.

Judge Trask has been ordered by Gov. Gage to go to Kings county to hear the matter of the petition of Lillian H. Page for letters of administration in the estate of Winifred M. Page. Judge M. L. Short of Kings county is disqualified to sit in the case.

ADULTERY CHARGED. Henry E. Small was defendant in a divorce suit brought by Emma J. Small and tried in Judge York's court yesterday. "The grounds were adultery and failure to provide."

THE INFERRIOR COURTS.

BLIND PARK SPOUTER WAS FOUND GUILTY.

CITY JUSTICE MORGAN ATE CROW UNDER PROTEST.

Socialist Job Harriman Made a Weak Fight for Osborn, His Client-Sympathetic Ladies in Attendance-Raines Held for Attempted Murder.

Socialist Job Harriman did a crawling stunt in the Police Court yesterday, but failed to save his client.

He appeared as attorney for J. B. Osborn, the blind spouter, who was arrested for making speeches in Central Park. When the defendant was arraigned some days ago he pleaded guilty and demanded a jury trial. Yesterday Harriman went into the court, withdrew the plea, admitted all the allegations, waived the jury and submitted a demurrer to the complaint against Osborn.

The demurrer was as windy as a Socialist speech in the park, going from "a to z" in reciting the reasons why the case should be dismissed. In brief, they amounted to this: The facts as stated in the complaint are admitted as true; the facts, however, constitute no offense; the ordinance prohibiting speech-making in the park is unconstitutional.

Justice Morgan promptly ruled against the demurrer, being compelled to go against his own ruling. In similar cases, which caused so much discussion two years ago, in doing this the justice followed the precedent set by the ordinance in the park is unconstitutional.

"The ordinance under which this prosecution is had has heretofore on several occasions been the subject of judicial consideration, and in each case this court has on two different occasions expressed its opinion fully in favor of the ordinance," he said.

The same opinion was expressed in the case of the same defendant, upon the ground that the ordinance was a valid exercise of the legislative power vested in the City Council by the Board of Park Commissioners.

In other words, it is void because in defiance attempts to invest the Board of Park Commissioners with the authority to establish a rule which would be without effect, without establishing any rule whatever by which the ordinance could be enforced.

Since rendering the opinion heretofore in establishing the fact that the ordinance is valid, the justice has been more fully convinced than ever before of the correctness of his opinion, both as to the validity of the ordinance and as to the fact that the ordinance is valid.

He rendered his decision in a rather decided manner, but he was rather difficult to follow in his reasoning. He stated that the ordinance is valid, but he did not state the reasons why it is valid.

"But the Superior Court of this county," he said, "has on two occasions declared the ordinance valid and the court is bound to follow the decision of the Superior Court."

"This court," he said, "is bound to follow the decision of the Superior Court, and the court is bound to follow the decision of the Superior Court."

"The evidence for the prosecution consisted in the fact that the defendant was arrested while making a Socialist-Labor speech in Central Park, and the justice has found that the defendant was guilty of the offense."

"I am going to speak here tomorrow and every day until after the election," he said.

After consultation between Patrolmen Zeigler and Hill, who decided to arrest the defendant, he was taken to the police station.

"My mind is made up to speak," he said.

"To this Hill retorted: 'My mind is made up to speak.'"

The witnesses for the spouter consisted of some of the old guard, the latter part of whose trousers showed evidence of long friction with the park benches.

One of them was Mr. Speltz, who, in testimony to the fact that he had been in the park, had a piece of the city, selling a screw upon a recalled child. There were all old fogies, just as they were, and an endeavor to establish that Osborn had only answered questions that were put to him, and to show that he had come to the park to hold a valid meeting, but the attempt was a failure.

A double quartette of ladies of unimpaired age were present at the trial, and the accused, and one symmetrical old lady several times went forward and whispered in his ear. It was a very interesting scene.

Justice Morgan rendered his decision in the following language: "There is no question about the facts in this case; the only question is as to the ordinance. I, therefore, find the defendant guilty, and order him to appear on Friday for sentence."

Attorney Harriman gave notice of an appeal. It is said that Osborn was put up for the purpose of once more testing the ordinance in the park, and that the defendant was guilty of the offense.

The anarchist crowd seemed to be somewhat jubilant over the prospect of a reversal, and one old fellow of the revolution type, followed persistently at the heels of Mr. Harriman, and left the courtroom, and that the latter said:

"You left me on the park and make speeches at the time of McKeeby's death, an hour and a half long. This case goes through. I'm going to let the jury decide."

People living in the neighborhood of the park and those who heard his speech, there, there, play, are congratulating themselves over the conviction of the defendant, as they were hearing a recitation of the misdeeds of two years ago.

Police Cases in Brief.

Steve Murray was convicted before Justice Austin of stealing a pair of trousers from a second-hand store on First street. He will be sentenced today.

P. Avilla stole a box of apples and a box of grapes from a Chinese vegetable peddler yesterday morning, at the Hovea Market. He will take his medicine today.

The hearing of Albert Hunt, charged with stealing a bicycle, was set for 11 o'clock this morning.

Henry Cooper, the pimp, who kicked Charles Bradshaw in the face, was fined $40, or, in default, forty days in jail.

John Raines was given a hearing before Justice Austin yesterday, on the charge of attempting to murder the notorious Lena Donohue, on October 24. The story has been several times told. The estate of Winifred M. Page, the estate of Winifred M. Page, was held in $1500 cash bail for the Superior Court.

Henry Craig and Richard Acre each paid $10 fine for fighting over the divorced wife of the former. The woman was also arrested, and dismissed without punishment.

Anti-Gasworks.

Prof. William L. Judson, head of the Los Angeles College of Fine Arts, has written to The Times a letter setting forth urgent arguments against the proposed repeal of the county ordinance, which was enacted to prevent the Lowe gas works from establishing a factory in the Arroyo, near Garvanza.

Prof. Judson says that no one having important financial interests in Garvanza has consented to the repeal of this gas plant. The letter continues:

"The bluff overlooking the Arroyo at this point is most valued by artists, who have built or intend to build immediately studios, on account of the magnificent view obtained there. To build a gas plant in such a spot is not only a serious injustice to the property owners, but it is a great disfigurement to the landscape, which this generation can never condone."

"We have nothing to do with the fight between the gas companies. If it exists. We stand in the position of helpless private citizens, appealing to the County Board of Supervisors to prevent us against the oppression of a rich and conscienceless corporation."

THE OIL INDUSTRY.

POTTER HOTEL TO BURN SUMMERLAND DISTILLATE.

CONTRACT JUST LET FOR TWO YEARS SUPPLY.

All but Four Engines on the Southern Pacific's San Joaquin Division Now Burning Crude Oil-New Wells for Sunset and Midway.

M. M. Potter of this city will burn liquid fuel in his new hotel at Santa Barbara. This week he has a contract with the California Liquid Asphalt Company, to supply the Potter Hotel Company with distillate to be used as fuel for its large boilers.

The contract has been executed for a period of two years. It will amount in the aggregate to about $25,000. The company decided to use distillate rather than the crude alone, owing to its superior qualities. The boilers in which it will be used are four in all, and will be devoted to the generating of steam for the hotel's heating and power to operate the cold-storage, electric-lighting and pumping plants, and to operate the elevators in the big hotel.

The distillate will be shipped from the Summerland field, where the California Liquid Asphalt is one of the largest producers.

The contract has been rather difficult to get a market for distillate, but since local consumers have demonstrated that it is superior to crude oil for certain purposes, the demand has been large, both in this field and in the north. In most instances, the distillate is used for heating and power.

It is understood that Mr. Potter will soon close a contract for a large supply of the latter.

Important improvements are now being made on the plant of the California Liquid Asphalt Company. Three wells are now in operation, and arrangements are being made to put in two others. The plant now has a capacity of 200 barrels a day, and as the demand for the refined product increases, the company will add to its output.

S. P. A GREAT CONSUMER.

Some idea of the great consumption of crude oil by the Southern Pacific Company can be gathered from a report just made public. It is announced that on the San Joaquin division of the road there are 108 engines running with oil burners, which exceeds the number so equipped on any two divisions combined. Only four coal-burners are now in use on this division, and they are to be converted within a short time.

The total amount of oil consumed by the division last month, was 64,331 barrels.

NEW WELLS IN KERN.

ALTOONA - MIDWAY PRODUCER.

BAKERSFIELD, NOV. 15.—The Altoona-Midway section 25, 22, 23, has what is now supposed to be the best well in that district. The estimate placed upon it from tests, 200 barrels per day. The well has just been completed at a depth of about 1200 feet, and there are 150 feet of oil sand at the bottom. Above the oil sand lies a bed of clay 225 feet, which was penetrated with great difficulty, but nevertheless the well was finished with two strings, and a source of future danger is thus averted.

The Lucky Boy, Dr. J. J. O'Brien's company, located in North Sunset, has found the top stratum of oil sand to be thirty-five feet in thickness, and the drills will be sent down to a greater depth, in the hope of striking another deposit. The well as it now stands is said to be good for between fifty and sixty-five barrels daily.

The price of oil is steadily going upward, and numerous reports of rates offered are heard. Necessarily, they vary, the highest to be related being a "negotiation" sold before a west side company, which, however, was unable to obtain the oil, and another company, which, however, was unable to obtain the oil, and another company, which, however, was unable to obtain the oil.

The contract is for 1000 barrels a day for the period of a year, at 27 cents on board the tank.

Bradstreet's Agency Refutes Boycott Leader's Statements. Rogers and Hay Forced to Acknowledge They Lied.

THE BRADSTREET COMPANY.

C. A. K. — G. A. H.

Measures. A. Hamburger & Sons.
Los Angeles, Cal.

By attention has been called to an article published in the Union Labor News of September 10, 1902, in which the statement appears that the Bradstreet Co. has issued certain reports reflecting on the credit of your house. I beg to say that no one connected with the paper mentioned has ever had access to our reports, that the use of our name is unwarranted and represents a reprehensible method, and that the facts of the case are entirely contrary to the tenor of the allegations made.

Yours very truly, C. A. Kenyon that they will resent such villany of Rogers and Hay, who claim to represent their interests. Instead of this boycott having the effect of injuring our interests, our books will show that since the boycott was inaugurated, our business each month has been increased by many per cent. over and above corresponding months of the year before, until now we do absolutely the largest cash business of any house west of Chicago.

In throwing the searchlight of truth on the diabolical methods of this contemptible pair of traducers, we will hold them up to the public scorn they so richly deserve. Quoting from the infamous Union Labor News, acknowledged as edited by Rogers, assisted by Hay, under date of September 19, 1902, the following excerpt is taken—"If statements furnished by Bradstreet's Agency did not show the tremendous falling off—" This unwarranted lie directly affecting the well known Bradstreet Commercial Agency, called for prompt action by that concern and Rogers and Hay quickly acknowledged they had lied when they stood facing prison bars for such criminality in uttering such words, and now we reproduce in its entirety a letter from C. A. Kenyon, Supt. of the local Bradstreet Agency, refuting in every detail the statements charged to them by these skulking defamers. We shall disprove each lie these base traducers have uttered and show to the labor organizations of this city the extent to which they have been imposed upon in getting their support of this infamous boycott and we have implicit confidence in the manhood of the Labor Unions and know that they will resent such villany of Rogers and Hay, who claim to represent their interests.

STRENGTH AND GRACE.

POWERS OF WOMAN'S BODY WHICH PREVENT FATIGUE AND GIVE HEALTH—KEEP YOUR INDIVIDUALITY—GIVE MAXIMUM ATTENTION TO FACTORS REQUIRED FOR GRACEFUL BEARING.

BY SYLVESTER J. SINGH.

THE crowds hurry homeward after the day's work, take your stand one evening on the platform of one of the "L" stations and study for a few minutes the movements of the people. After your eyes have become sufficiently discriminating to define individual motions apart from the tumultuous undulations of the mass, the first thing that will strike you is the immense variety of ways in which the simple laws of bodily bearing and movement are violated.

Young women, slope-shouldered, with dragging step and ineffectual poise, excite your compassion by unmistakable signs of utter fatigue, and you are ready to cry out against social conditions which condemn the coming mothers of the nation to toil above their strength. Take your seat in the cars and watch these young women, as they sit in ungainly attitudes, with drooping head and chest, and your impression that they are worked to death will be confirmed.

FATIGUE IS UNNATURAL.

Tired? Of course, they are tired, but curiously enough, not with work. Exceptions there are, of course—cases where the girl's work is utterly beyond her strength. But on the whole, it is true that these young women return home fatigued when they might show little trace of the day's labor. Nay, the very physical movements which they go through in the course of their daily work might be turned to profit, converted to a means of building up their strength and improving their physique.

That may seem a hard saying. Nevertheless, it is true. If a girl under all circumstances would maintain acquaintance. Wrong attitudes, per-rid of in a day, but persistence in following these directions will be resulted in improved grace and health.

Hold crown of head high. Keep an active chest, raised and fixed. Draw back knees, hips and abdomen. Let weight of body rest on ball of foot.

Let arms hang easily from the shoulders.

To walk correctly (Fig. 1.) Nothing is more conducive to physical improvement than the proper manner of walking. Walking is an art, but it is one which can be readily acquired. Many miles at a stretch, with the correct attitude, are less fatiguing than a few blocks of the dawdling, dragging or wagging movements which pass inter-mit with most people. To be able to walk correctly gives you the feeling that you have full control of yourself and the world.

Take short steps. Don't bend the knees. Let the foot give a little push to the ground as it leaves. Keep the foot straight; don't let it in nor foot out. Follow these directions and your body will acquire buoyancy; the muscles of both above the head. Rise on toes and walk forward eight steps, holding breath. Lower arms, exhale breath and let weight rest on both feet. Rise again on toes, inhale, count eight, raise arms slowly. Exhale breath, lower feet, until you stand firmly on both feet. To attain full individuality your intelligence must be brought into play. Study ease, precision and harmony—the three great graces. Study the exercises that follow the knee, elbow and thumb joints. Assume a graceful position when walking, sitting or rising.
